Angels Wanted

And while you're at it, we're looking for a few good angels to help us continue bringing quality theatre to the north Dallas area. If you or a local corporation that you know of are in a position to help sponsor an ambitious, quality season of regional theatre, then we want you on our team. We have our sights set on some world-class projects with some of the top talent in the area, in which you could be a proud partner.

Rover Dramawerks is working on its 501(c)3 status, and your donations would be tax deductible.

Next Up for Rover

We wish we knew! We have been reading plays and have several wonderful shows in mind for our next production, but our primary limitation right now is lack of a performance venue.

As our name implies, we are currently roving from space to space, and we are currently looking for a place to produce our next show. If you can help us in our space quest, please let us know!

You can contact us at crice@roverdramawerks.com or call 214-796-9246.
